

THERE'S A PLACE FOR YOU IN UCONN CHOIRS!

Welcome to UConn! We are excited about the upcoming year and we look forward to meeting all of you in August! For those of us in UConn Choirs, we are especially looking forward to meeting our incoming freshman singers and any student or community member who hasn't sung in a UConn Choir before. As Director of Choral Studies, and on behalf of everyone involved with UConn Choirs, I welcome you to your new adventure. At UConn, there are many opportunities to showcase your talent and interest in singing with a music department that has a long tradition of choral excellence and joy in making music. There is no better way to use your talent, meet new people, and help create something amazing than to sing with a UConn Choir. Whether you are a Music Major with eyes on an international career in opera, or a Pre-Med, Ag., Education, Kinesiology, Engineering, Women's Studies, or any other major looking for an escape from pressures of your core classes, there is a place for you in UConn Choirs. Freshman, Grad student, or community member, we want you singing with us and look forward to meeting you. -Dr. Jamie Spillane

We will hold Choral Placement Hearings for incoming and returning singers on Saturday, Sunday, Monday, and Tuesday of the first few days on campus (August 26–29). These placement hearings are a low-stress way for us to get to know you and your voice to help us decide which choral ensemble would be the best fit for you.

Choral Placement Hearings will be scheduled using an online sign-up form. Click on this link to schedule a time: Choral Placement Hearing or find the link on the UConn Choirs webpage (Google "UConn Choirs")

If you have any questions, please send an e-mail to uconnchoirs@uconn.edu or any of the other choir directors listed on the UConn Choirs webpage.

You can also call the UConn Choral Office at (860) 486-2562
